

Speculative Reflection

Aaron Sanchez MTEC 3501

Vibey – Music That Matches Your Feelings

Speculative

Vibey is a music app that knows how you feel and plays songs that fit your mood. Whether you're happy, stressed, or just chill, it's like having a playlist made by a friend who gets you.

Core Idea

You tell Vibey how you're feeling, or it senses it from your voice or typing, and then plays music that matches or gently changes your mood.

Metaphor

It's like walking into a room where the music already knows how you're feeling no explanations needed.

What Makes It Bold

Instead of picking songs by genre or popularity, Vibey centers your emotions, making music feel more personal and alive.

Why It Matters to Me

I've often used music to deal with feelings. Vibey would make that easier no searching, just instant connection.

User Experience

Open the app, share your mood, and Vibey plays the perfect soundtrack. It's simple, comforting, and feels like a friend understanding you without words.

Team Potential

Could involve designers, AI experts, musicians, and mental health pros to get the mood just right.

Challenges

How do we detect emotions without being creepy? What if people's moods don't fit neat categories? How to keep it real and respectful?

Future Vision

Over time, Vibey could be part of your daily life wearables, smart speakers helping with mental wellness and creativity through music.